Your appeal must be received by the following deadline in order to receive financial aid for the given semester:

Fall Semester	Spring Semester	Summer Semester
November 1 st	March 15 th	June 15th

- Only complete appeals will be reviewed by the Financial Aid and Scholarships Appeal Committee, which will determine whether or not an exception to the Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy is warranted. Through this appeal, the student must demonstrate that extenuating and/or unusual circumstances occurred which were beyond the student's control. Examples may include illness, injury, death of a relative, divorce, or other special circumstances.
- All Notifications regarding this appeal, including the appeal decision, will be sent electronically via your Umail account (or in some cases, to the mailing address listed on the Campus Information System.) Decisions are made within thirty days of submitting a completed appeal.
- Policy will not allow aid to be reinstated for prior terms if ineligibility was due to violation of satisfactory academic progress standards (SAT).
- Appeals are processed in the order they are received and are subject to the volume and time constraints of the committee.

Note: Submitting an appeal does not guarantee that your request will be granted.

Please indicate the policy for which you seek an exception. Check all that apply:

- 67% Aggregate Completion Rate       Cumulative Grade Point Average       Maximum Time Frame

PLEASE SUBMIT THE FOLLOWING:

- Appeal Form: Your signature is required below. This appeal is only for purposes related to the receipt of financial aid.
- Personal Statement: Your statement must include the reason(s) you failed to meet the SAT standards AND what has changed that will allow you to meet the SAT standards by the end of the semester. For Maximum Time Frame, also include your expected Graduation Date.
- Documentation: Attach documentation to support all extenuating and/or unusual circumstances detailed in your letter.
- Departmental Letter (for Maximum Time Frame Only): you must include a letter from your academic department indicating the progress you are making towards earning a degree, the number of credit hours and specific courses needed to complete the degree, and your expected graduation date. If you have more than one major or a minor, you must provide a letter from each academic department.
- Academic Plan: If you are unable to reach the required SAT standards by the end of the semester you are appealing, you must submit an academic plan outlining the steps you will take to reach the minimum SAT standards by a specific point in time. Some examples may include a reduced course load, a minimum GPA for a certain number of terms, completion of 100% of all courses, or a degree outline. If the appeal is successful, students must adhere to their academic plan. Failure to follow the academic plan may lead to future denial of federal financial aid.
